AMBOSELI NATIONAL PARK

Amboseli National Park is renowned for its incredible elephant population, including some of the largest tuskers left in Africa. It is also known for its stunning scenery, with the snow-capped peak of Mt. Kilimanjaro towering in the background.

The big tuskers of Amboseli National Park are legendary. These magnificent African elephants boast exceptionally long, thick tusks that can reach the ground, earning them the nickname “super tuskers.” They are a sight to behold and hold immense ecological and cultural significance.

This 4-Day/3-Night Amboseli Super-Tuskers Wildlife Photography Workshop led by renowned wildlife photographer Peter Delaney and our expert guide, who have a wealth of experience in tracking and locating elephants in the Amboseli National Park.

You will learn to approach elephants safely and respectfully while taking close-range pictures. It is important to remember that elephants are wild animals and should be treated with respect.

The wildlife photography workshop will emphasize the importance of ethical elephant photography, ensuring that you don't disturb or stress the animals in any way.

TYPICAL DAY ON SAFARI

Our professional guides are there to assist you every step of the way. Even though there is a general outline of your safari, your guide will discuss each day's plans with you. He will tell you about the country you are visiting, its history, traditions, the area you are visiting, and what you see; he will take you to the loveliest places, look after any formalities or negotiations with the local people, and take care of your safety and comfort. They are all proficient in bushcraft. They can also tell you about the local traditions and wildlife, identify the birds, and help you learn more about the world. All our guides speak English and their local language, and some speak French and Spanish. Days will vary depending on your schedule, road conditions, and what you want to do. A typical day may unfold like this:

You will get up before dawn when hot coffee and tea are served. The air is cold as the sun rises and shimmers on the open plains. This is the best time to see the wildlife. Your camera is ready to go, and you have layered your clothing to keep you warm. Head into the bush and search for lions, elephants, giraffes, and plains game. Each turn will offer something unique - a lioness and her cubs, a herd of elephants moving to a waterhole, a cheetah stalking a gazelle. Your morning game drive lasts about two hours, depending on what you see. Return to the lodge for a delicious breakfast. After breakfast, there is time to relax from being up at sunrise. Now is the time to participate in any additional activities the lodge may offer – such as walks, village visits, or bike rides.

Lunch is usually served in camp/lodge unless you are out for a full day's game drive when they will have a picnic lunch. You will head out again in the afternoon, searching for the particular species that may have eluded you. As the sun sets, return to camp for a hot shower. Then, indulge in a delicious dinner and after-dinner drinks in the lounge. There may also be a chance to sit around the campfire exchanging tales of the bush. Everyone retires early with great anticipation of the next day's adventure!

When you are out on safari, your schedule is flexible at most locations; however, some places have set times for game drives or walks. You can always talk with the hosts of the camps/lodge to adjust schedules, and they will try to accommodate you. The restriction will be to stay within park rules and travel times required to reach your destination. Your guides will always give their recommendations but are there to listen to your needs.

Any payment made by ET, either by way of refund or as the result of a successful claim, will be limited to, and not exceed, the sums retained by ET regarding the related booking.

23. LIMITS ON EXPEDITION TRAVELLERS' RESPONSIBILITY:

Expedition Travellers, its employees, shareholders, officers, directors, successors, agents, and assigns (collectively "ET"), do not own or operate any entity which is to or does provide goods or services for your trip. It purchases transportation (by aircraft, coach, train, vessel, or otherwise), hotel and other lodging accommodations, restaurants, ground handling, and other services from various independent suppliers (including, from time to time, other affiliated Expedition Travellers companies). All such persons and entities are independent contractors. As a result, ET is not liable for any negligent or willful act of any such person or entity or of any third person.

In addition and without limitation, ET is not responsible for any injury, financial or physical loss, death, inconvenience, delay, or damage to personal property in connection to the provision of any goods or services, whether resulting from but not limited to acts of God or force majeure, illness, disease, acts of war, civil unrest, insurrection or revolt, animals, strikes or other labor activities, criminal or terrorist activities of any kind, overbooking or downgrading of services, food poisoning, mechanical or other failures of aircraft or other means of transportation or for the failure of any transport mechanism to arrive or depart on time.

There are many inherent risks in adventure travel of the type involved here, leading to illness, injury, or even death. These risks are increased because these trips occur in remote locations, far from medical facilities.

If you decide to participate in any activities including, but not limited to, any excursions involving animals, riding on animals, SCUBA diving, snorkeling, boating, hot air ballooning, zip-lining, high altitude treks, climbing, quad biking, parasailing, parachuting, kayaking, white-water rafting, primate tracking and any activity which ET considers to carry inherent risks of serious illness, injury, or death (“Activities”), then you fully understand and acknowledge that Activities carry with them various inherent risks, including serious illness, injury, or death. You take complete responsibility for your own health and safety and agree to assume all risks of injury, illness, or death, whether foreseen or unforeseen, that may befall you as a result of participating in any Activities and agree to release ET and its affiliates, their agents, employees, and representatives from any liability whatsoever related thereto, to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Further, as consideration for being permitted to participate in the Activities, you release ET, whether known or unknown, from and agree not to sue or make a claim against ET for property damage, cancellation of any activities for any reason, illness, negligent rescue operations or procedures, personal injury or death arising from your participation in the Activities, and any activity related thereto, including transportation to and from the site of the Activities, regardless of whether such property damage, illness, personal injury, or death results from the negligence of ET (but not its reckless, willful, or fraudulent conduct) and/or from any defect in the equipment. You further agree to indemnify and hold ET harmless for any claim made against ET by anyone else that a) related to your participation or b) would be subject to the above release and covenant not to sue if you had made this claim directly yourself.

24.HEALTH PRECAUTIONS:

Before travel, please consult your physician about anti-malaria precautions and other inoculations and vaccinations. Where applicable, please ensure that you carry a valid Yellow Fever certificate while traveling.

25.TRAVEL ADVISORIES/WARNINGS:

Travelers’ responsibility is to become informed about the most current travel advisories and warnings by referring to their respective government agencies. In the event of an active State Department or government agency Travel Warning against travel to specific destinations, should the Traveler still choose to travel against any travel advisory or warning, the Traveler assumes all risk of personal injury, death or property damage that may arise out of the events like those advised or warned against.

26.TRAVELERS’ REPRESENTATIONS:

If you or any member of your party has any medical problem or disability that may affect your stay, please provide us with full details before confirming your booking to advise you on the suitability of your chosen arrangements. We may require you to produce a doctor’s certificate certifying that you can participate in the tour. Acting reasonably, we will not confirm your booking if we cannot adequately accommodate the person’s needs. Suppose you did not give us full details at the time of booking. We will cancel it and impose applicable cancellation charges when we become aware of these details.

27.AIR TRANSPORTATION:

AIR TRANSPORTATION: Airlines concerned are not to be held responsible for any act, omission, or event occurring while passengers are not on board their aircraft. International air carriers are also subject to international air conventions limiting their liability. These limitations of liability are explained on the e-ticket or the reverse of the airline ticket. When issued, this constitutes the sole contract between the respective air carrier(s) and their passengers.

Airlines overbook all flights! Therefore, we recommend that you check in online as soon as the airline makes online check-in available. If you do not book online or cannot, we recommend that you arrive at the airport 3 hours before departure. Airlines may re-allocate seats in the event of late check-in and arrivals. ET cannot check you in, and you must ensure you are checked in within the appropriate time. ET is neither responsible nor liable if you are downgraded an airline class due to the airline overbooking the class in which you are booked. Seat reservations are at the airline's discretion and may be changed at any time without notice.

CRUISES/CHARTERS: If you are scheduled to partake in a cruise or charter, you are responsible for ensuring that you are aboard the vessel 60 minutes before the scheduled sailing time. ET is neither responsible nor liable if you fail to board the vessel in good time and suffer any loss. Furthermore, refunds will not be given for any missed days due to such failure or for clients who leave the Cruise prematurely.

28.PASSPORTS & VISAS

Please note that passport holders are responsible for obtaining the required documentation applicable for entry. Please also note that passports must be valid for at least six (6) months after the completion of your journey and should have sufficient blank pages for visas and immigration stamps. ET can only be held responsible if you are allowed entry to a country due to non-compliance with these requirements. Should you require specific information ahead of travel, please consult the travel advice produced by the government of your home jurisdiction and that of the government that issued the passport and/or visa you intend to travel under.

29.TRAVELLING WITH CHILDREN

We recommend that if you are traveling with a child that does not share your surname, to minimize the possibility of disruption to your travel plans, you travel with documentation that proves your relationship to the child and that proves you have permission to travel with them. ET can only be held responsible if you or any member of your traveling party are allowed entry to a country due to non-compliance with these requirements. Should you require further specific information ahead of travel, please consult the travel advice produced by the government of your home jurisdiction and that of the government that issued the passport and/or visa you intend to travel under.

Due to some of the excursions and activities involved in ET trips, minimum age requirements are in place at some destinations. Some accommodations require children below a certain age to share a room with an adult. Such circumstances vary and will be specified within your itinerary, ahead of travel, and at the time of booking.

30.TRAVEL INSURANCE:

ET requires all clients to take out comprehensive travel insurance before the travel date. This insurance should cover cancellation and curtailment, all medical expenses, including evacuation/repatriation, COVID-19 coverage, personal baggage, personal liability, death, and permanent disability, and travel document insurance.

31.ARBITRATION AGREEMENT:

Any claim arising out of or relating to these Terms and Conditions, to the Limits on ET's Responsibility clause, to the brochure, to any information relating in any way to the trip, to the trip itself, or any products or services related to the trip, shall be settled in the first instance by binding arbitration in the applicable legal forum as detailed in clause 32 of these Terms and Conditions. In lieu of a personal appearance at arbitration, the arbitration may be conducted by telephonic means. Arbitration is the exclusive forum in the first instance for dispute resolution and except as otherwise provided by statute, each party shall bear its costs and expenses and an equal share of the arbitrator and administrative fees.

32. APPLICABLE LAW AND FORUM:

This agreement shall be construed, interpreted, enforced by, and governed by the laws of the State of New York, The United States of America. It is agreed between ET and the Travelers that all lawsuits against ET arising under, in connection with, or incidental to the tour shall be filed, if at all, in the courts of Queens County, State of New York, The United States of America to the exclusion of the courts of or in any other country.
